Alleluía/Praíse to the Lord

anon

Treble festivals: All sing the entire round, and then the conductor will divide the choir into three groups. Mixed voice festivals: All sing the entire round, and then the TB's start (ending on part I the second time), followed by the Sopranos (ending on part III), then the altos (ending on part II).

American Federation Pueri Cantores www.pcchoirs.org

William Boyce was a chorister and later an organ student at St. Paul's Cathedral, London. He became composer to the Chapel Royal in 1736, and many of his sacred works were written for use there and at other London churches at which he was organist.